

QUALITY ASSURANCE

Shree J. M. Patel Institute of Social Work and Applied Arts is dedicated to providing high-quality education and training that leads to a degree in "Social Work," and it strives to be a global institution by continually improving its academic ability and the effectiveness of its quality management system. The institute's quality policy is communicated and understood by all members, and it is periodically assessed for continued suitability.

- To strive for worldwide excellence in all of our endeavors, including teaching, research, and continuing education, as well as to maintain accountability in our core and support functions through self-evaluation and continuous improvement methods.
- Improvements to teaching facilities, such as the inclusion of instructional aides or equipment.
- Faculty development through increased knowledge and academic qualifications, as well as engagement with students.
- Student feedback surveys, student placements through campus interviews, and overall achievement in council examinations will be used to gauge educational satisfaction on a regular basis.
- Keeping an eye on the quality management system to ensure that any non-conformity are addressed as soon as possible. The institute's management is committed to these quality objectives and ensures that all members of the institute are aware of, understand, and apply them.
